Yearbook of McLean High School

John Shultz Larry Sorry larry,
that you didn't stay in my Spanish class.
But I certainly did appreciate your presence
when you were here.
Keep smiling.
A.M. Sikeg.

Hi Chipz!

If I am pretending to know, and you are pretending too, then our myths are in no danger and we may even reinforce our nebulous convictions. "In order to have something of their own in a situation that has rendered them powerless, many young folk maintain a fixed self-concept, as if living out a biography that has already been run. They absorbedly meditate this biography, and in this action they are earnest indeed; but it is an action that prevents becoming aware of anything or anybody else." The "real" world is incidental to us; our knowledge is so overwhelmingly verbal, rather than gained through living, that it is not surprising if we fail as intellectuals.

But all is not lost. The worth, the memorability lie in the emotions and the people, right? Those profound euphorias, depressions and enlightenments that you hear about must be happening, even if you don't see them. You know there's something behind all the smiling, the proclamations of communal affection, the interminable words and words about our own words. Surely even if we breathlessly waste our days, there must be somewhere the awesome presence of that ecstatic common denominator of the human experience, the Meaningful Relationship. Of Course.

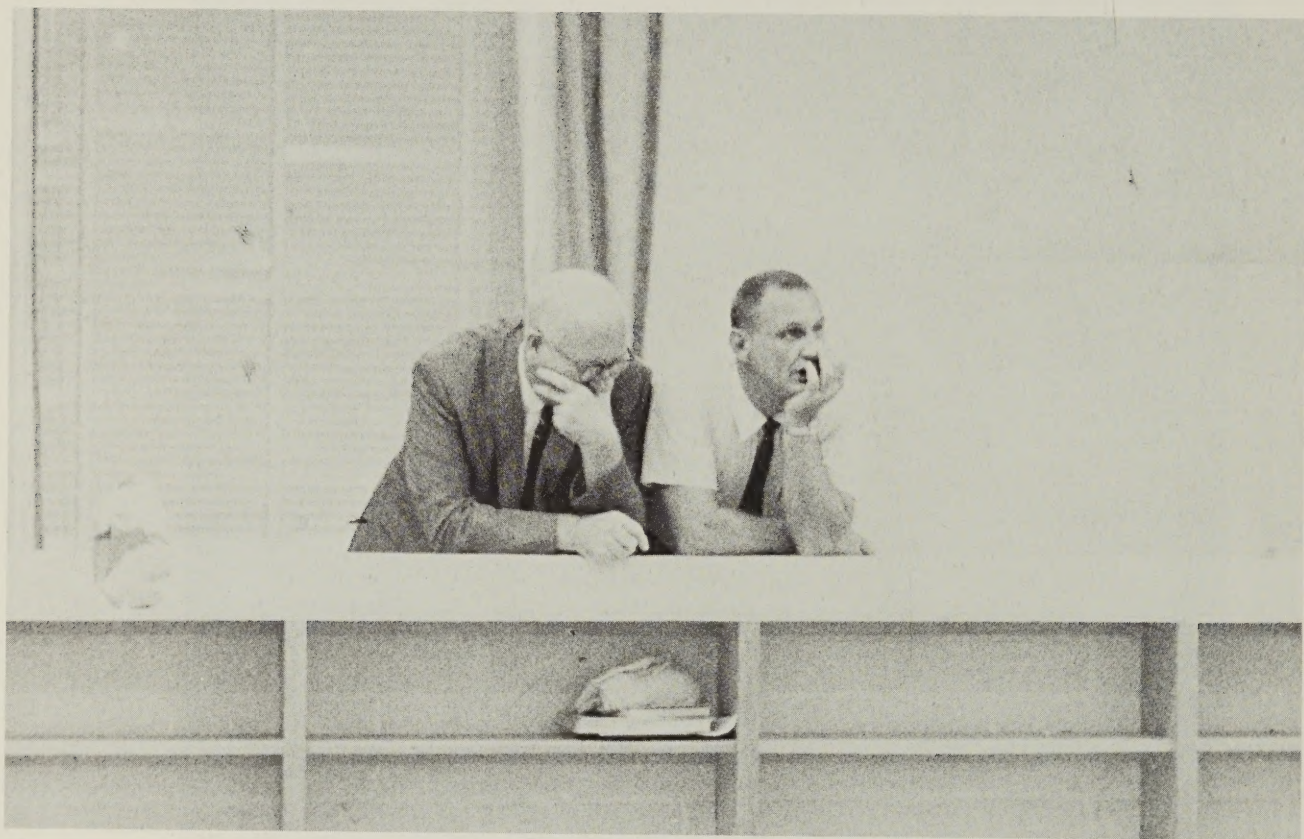

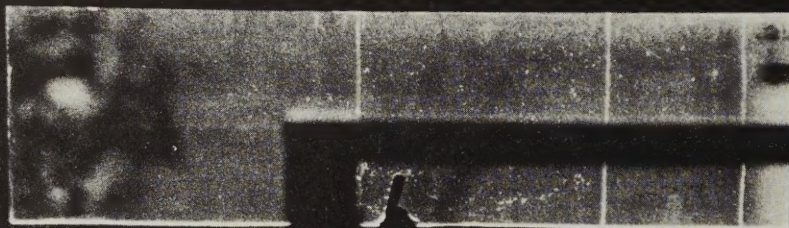

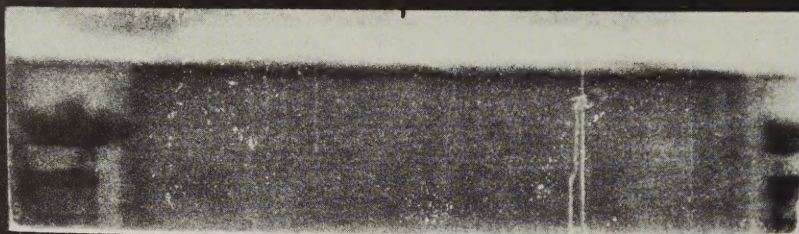

Larry,

Is a ~~so~~ really sweet, adorable guy!
Remember Teresa's party o.k? That was really weird. Maybe if I'm lucky I'll be able to see you this summer, maybe not. Have a great summer.

I'll see you next year.

Love,
Susan

I see you, can you see me?
Or did you forget your glasses?
Or are you looking at your watch?
Or inspecting the sidewalk?

Larry - It's been a lot of fun this year
 in Biology, especially that third 9 weeks
 when we got to sit together. Right!?
 I didn't mean
 any of the things
 I said or did. Really.
 But seriously, I want to wish you all the luck in the world. You would make a great Biology teacher, especially with me as your assistant. Hope to see you next year. Love ya,
 Ruth

Harry We had some times in we? And were the thanks we gym
 cool!
 I'd
 summer
 all as summer
 day

today
 funny lunch
 it seems one who what! After pushed a great ya
 I'll

didn't what you
 as up get out of your summer
 next I'll

this anything
 the same Light
 and smile

FOOTBALL

The 1970 football team, hampered by injuries in key areas and unable to play consistent football, battled its way through a tough, disappointing season. Among performances ranging from poor to brilliant, perhaps the most satisfying were the triumphs over area powers Groveton and Annandale, both fiercely contested games; and even the ancient nemesis Langley was only able to win in the last seconds of what must have been at the same time the most thrilling and disappointing game of the season.

What moved the team in 1970 was effort—effort by second-string players, by the feared Elephant Squad, and everyone else. Even in the disaster of Homecoming, 1970's Black Friday, the football team never stopped trying.

CROSS-COUNTRY

When a cross-country team loses its number one runner, especially if he's one of the best in the state, it is in trouble. When a team loses its top three runners, it probably should give up.

But the 1970 McLean cross country team never gave up. Despite the illnesses of superstar Brian Thomas, and standouts Tom Becher and Jeff Greene, the harriers raced to within a few points of all their dual meet opponents when they probably had no business even staying close. They placed fourth in the Eagle Invitational meet against teams from the entire metropolitan area, and third in the District meet, avenging their earlier losses to Langley and Madison. Then Brian Thomas went on to become the fifth man in the state.

With only two runners graduating, next year's team could be of championship caliber; and when the breaks even out, a new day could still be at hand.

VARSITY HOCKEY 1970

Hockey? What's girl's hockey? Sounds familiar, but to sixteen girls it meant eight hard fought weeks of competition. After a month of practice, the McLean Varsity hockey team met Hayfield and proceeded to score an impressive 5-0 victory. Following the joyous first win, McLean hosted Woodson and lost an agonizing game, 2-1, but rebounded off the loss and continued the trend set at the opening of the season, winning all of the remaining matches. The defense allowed only three goals throughout the entire season, while the offense, threatened by the prospect of being strangled with a garote, outscored their opponents by a ratio of eight to one. The team, comprised predominantly of seniors, finished with an overall record of seven wins and one defeat, establishing themselves once again as district champions. The 1970 hockey season meant sixteen girls working together, surviving daily practices, braving the cold weather, and winning consistently.

JV HOCKEY

Because of the large percentage of seniors on the varsity team, the junior varsity was comprised of an unusually large number of underclassmen. Nonetheless, the junior varsity had no trouble amassing an undefeated season's record of 7-0-1 (win-loss-tie), and joining the varsity as Great Falls district champions and as first in the county. The offense as well as the defense played equally important roles in the team's success. The great depth and number of individuals promises a strong team for the 1971 season.

WRESTLING

Like a team of pythons the wrestlers crunched one victim after another as they muscled their way through another undefeated year. The beautiful record included especially pleasing thrashings of Madison and Stuart, the closest teams in the district and region to any real competition. After the entire team took the region, seven of the Highlander grapplers progressed to the State Tournament, where the McLean Machine was finally stopped only by the legendary wrestling super-power Granby, and by only a single point.

Special kudos went to Charlie Kilmer, third in Northern Virginia; Rich Valley, Bill Johnson, and Kevin Johnson, all of whom took third in the state; and Ed Ryan, voted outstanding wrestler in the Regionals, who captured first place in Virginia.

JV WRESTLING

BASKETBALL

Coach Tom Dolan, in his final year as coach of the McLean basketball team, put in all together to drive the Highlanders to their first district championship. Led by senior Mike Simons, McLean beat a strong Marshall team 55-54 to take the district title. Simons, while breaking all major McLean scoring and rebounding records and leading Northern Virginia in scoring, earned himself a berth on the All-Northern Region and All-Metropolitan Teams. Glenn Helmick, second team All-Great Falls District, and others added to the punch McLean needed to finish the season with a 12-6 record, one of the best in McLean history.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

JV BASKETBALL

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Girls' Basketball, referred to as the U.C.L.A. of the East, started the season off with a bang, rolling over their first opponent, Annandale, 57-17. They continued the trend with convincing victories over Langley, Herndon, Madison, Oakton, Marshall, and Woodson. McLean, sporting a nine-game winning streak, lost a tough game to Madison, 55-40. It was a game of mistakes, with thirty turnovers, fifteen missed free throws, and with two of the starting six players fouling out of the game. The girls rebounded off the loss and ended the season with an over-all record of 11-1, finishing as first in the district and second in the county. The scoring was led by Meredith Overstreet, Vicki Adair and Jill Vines, while the defense consisted of Alice Richardson, Jan Mueller, Barb Shacochis, Patti Marsland, and Debbie Allen, with two juniors, Anne Daniels and Karen Quashnock, returning next year. The jayvees were undefeated in the Great Falls District and also finished with an 11-1 record aided by the scoring of Robbie Connor and Allison Finney and the defensive work of Devah Knott and Karen Nelson.

Russian Trip Influences Evaluation Of U.S. Life

THE hot water showers, cokes, a tear, a smile, simple, everyday necessities which we, the American public, take so much for granted that it is difficult to imagine life without them, right? And yet, as the MHS seniors who toured Russia realize, there are areas in this tiny, overpopulated world of which it can be said that the inhabitants merely exist from day to day, not knowing the true beauty and the joy of life, itself.

To walk down a Moscow street and attempt to distinguish a smile or any other sign of emotion on a Russian face is practically impossible. This, along with the dark buildings and gloomy, overcast skies, gives one such a depressed and disheartened feeling that it is incomprehensible how such life can go on.

To say that the Russian people live life to its fullest would be totally ludicrous. They have not been educated for this purpose, they have been trained to work and work hard for the State which puts food in their mouths and clothes on their backs.

The somber state of these people is so dismal that, upon witnessing it, one cannot help but reconsider the condition under which we Americans live. To simply count the old phrase "count your blessings" is not enough; for we must take a good look at ourselves and our environment, if we are to truly appreciate all that we have. Imagine life in America without the day-to-day emotions we express and the many articles we "simply could not do without."

Life is so beautiful; we should take every opportunity we have to make the most of it. The great part is that, unlike many other areas of the world, we do have the opportunity. This year, exert a little more effort and discover how wonderful life really is.

Sadie's Saga

by Sadie Schmuckstein

"And, contrary to Sadie's Saga, we're not going to rent the crown jewels for the prom princesses."

Yeah, that's pretty funny, baby. And I laugh even harder when I think of how all the money that's going to be wasted on the prom could be spent on a scholarship fund, or maybe buy food for some starving kids. Of course, things like that are pretty trivial when compared to fun, momentous, exciting, vitally necessary things like the prom.

The prom. Does anyone even know why it still exists? I don't think so. Apparently not, as apparently most of the seniors aren't exactly delirious with excitement over the idea of another prom, and apparently most of the juniors are suffering under the misconception that the seniors are screaming wildly for a prom. If this is indeed true, then why are we having a prom?

The prom. Some ask if we don't have one, what would we do with the money? Excuse my naivete, but are there actually people who think that there is nothing we could do with almost four thousand dollars? Does everyone really believe that all McLean households have an income of $30,000 per year? Hang it up if you do, because this writer personally knows several students, all of whom live in wealthy, sunny McLean, who just might not be able to attend college next year because the financial situation is so tight. The three thousand-plus dollars that would be spent on buying tissue paper and chicken wire for prom decorations could be used to put some starving junior or senior through college.

For once, stop thinking about prom night, how you'll get hit for about 60 bucks to rent a tux, buy a corsage, take your girlfriend out, and get her drunk, or don't think about paying $40 for a nice little white dress, a nice hairdo, and having some poor, idiot boy you don't even like spend a small fortune on you. For once, stop thinking of all this and think of someone who needs that money, who really needs it more than we ever will. Please, think.

It's time for me to step down from my pulpit now, I suppose. I'm sorry, but I feel we're missing an excellent opportunity to help someone. Really help someone. Isn't that what it's all about?

Letters To The Editor

Students Oppose Excessive Spending; Pollution

To the editor:

On the ninth of December, at a sophomore class meeting, I said that to spend large amounts of money on dances, while millions of people were starving to death around the world was selfish, petty, and made me angry. However, I did not have the time to explain fully what I meant, so now, I would like to make my position clear.

The amount of money that is spent in this school on dances and such has reached enormous proportions. Last year's junior prom cost between three and four thousand dollars. This year's Sweetheart dance will probably cost at least four hundred.

Is this the best way to spend this money? Is it really worthwhile? Then comes the reply, "But it makes us happy, it's fun. And the junior prom, especially, is the big social event of the year. Shouldn't it be the best that the class can afford?"

Certainly. Just because people are starving, dying in agony all over the world, just because millions of others are crippled by disease oh, the prom is much more important than that. Our little dances are more important than that.

In short, what is important to us is our own selfish pleasure, and we don't care about the ills of the world, as long as we're happy. At least that is the impression one would get.

Are we so cruel, so callous? No, just indifferent! On our little plastic island, without television sets, our dances, and all the rest, isolated from the mainstream of life, we tend to forget that other world beyond the borders of our island. And when we hear news of the outside world it doesn't really register, because it is so far beyond our personal horizon that it is unreal to us. It is merely a statistic, one million dead in Pakistan and we can feel little sorrow because it is so foreign to our own experience. This is not entirely our fault. It is mainly the result of our environment.

But there are still good and true people among us. We can make it if we will just broaden our horizons, if we will just try to care about our fellow man, try to help him a little, if we can rise above the slime-pit of apathy, petty selfishness, greed, and climb to the peak of the mountain.

I'm not saying that we should totally eliminate dances and such. I'm just saying that we should be reasonable, that we should try to use our money so that it will do some good, rather than simply wasting it... that we should worry about mankind, not just ourselves.

We, the younger generation, are the only hope for the future. We must work for the good of all mankind or mankind will be lost. We are the last chance we must succeed. A disease is rotting the core of our soul like a hideous cancer. We must overcome it.

Tom Carson

P.S. I must admit, I'm too emotional.

More on Spending

To the editor:

In the days of runaway inflation, during which we are asked to tighten our belts as far as spending is concerned, McLean is bickering over whether to spend the amazingly large sum of $3,500 for a prom, when they could spend just $800 for the beautiful Blue Room at the Shoreham. For another $150 to $300 they could get almost any band in the area. This is considerably less than $3,500.

McLean is unbelievably wrapped up in making and spending, and making more and spending more money. Juniors spend two or three years trying to accumulate large sums of money just to spend on one night. This sounds like something the federal government might do.

Aside from the band, a considerable amount of the money would go toward decorations. Decorations look fantastic, provided they are put up. Unfortunately they don't get put up until the last day. The Shoreham is already elegantly decorated and they wouldn't have to spend Sunday cleaning up. And we know nobody likes to clean up!

We all realize the prom is tradition, and tradition is good, to a point. But when tradition has lost its meaning, what is left? So all we ask is for the prom committee to sit down and think about the true meaning of the prom and the true meaning of $3,500.

Brad Bradford
and Kephia Anderson

Students Attack Pollution

To the editor:

We, the students of McLean High, should take a more concerned approach toward the polluting of our earth. We are the ones who are going to have to live in our polluted environment. Maybe our kids may not even be able to live normally in our environment, if something isn't done to control pollution and re-cycle our resources.

Living in a polluted land could not be called living by our definition: surviving, possibly, but not living. Could you stand wearing a protective device when going out to enjoy nature? We have noise pollution, thermal pollution, and many other types of pollution that affect us in every way. Is this the contribution we want to make to future generations? Let us put our minds together and work towards a goal in which we can be proud.

There are many of us that are indifferent to the problem. Let us get rid of the apathy along with our pollution. There are many things you as a consumer can do about pollution. Having a shopping cart instead of separate bags which will later clutter the earth in "the city dump" are just examples of the many ways to eliminate pollution in our home and the home of Mother Nature.

Dear Larry,
 I take no credit for the thought above, but I agree with it completely.
 I like you Larry, really I do, but please don't try to make it something else. It is so nice the way it's going now.
 I will be back next year
 for a visit so I won't say
 "goodbye" only "Au Tevoir!"
 jill
 "I'll never fall in love again."

Thank it, Buddy (haha)
 Even though you are exclusively SAY you're a cool guy. Have a good summer, keep beating the skins and I see you next year. Also, don't be too tough on Anthony. He can't help it.
 Grief

I'm sorry, I'm at the
 of the year, and I suppose that you are to, who the have some laughs this year, making you trying more and, build out, and taking apart with. It's really we did have a lot of fun
 this year as always. I hope to see you next year if not our Good Luck in Everything!
 Also ya

Hiya Hoots!
 I hope you stay

 Stay with you are!
 Goto love,
 Ginger

The 1971 Clan is dedicated to Mr. Harry Maranian, our sponsor for the past twelve years, whom we believe to be, above all, a good man.

Larry, I have composed a poem in your behalf:

Larry Bockneks are nice "little" things
 That hit you in the halls;
 They wear Spiro Agnew watches
 And never answer to "Hello" calls.
 But they make very good first aiders
 As Tina will agree;
 And as far as I'm concerned
 They are as sweet as they can be!

*I really am glad that you transferred into art.
 You make class more exciting! Good luck with drama and band, and don't forget to practice your marching this summer! See ya next year!*

*Friends forever,
 Debbie Anderson*

P.S. I know I don't have much future as a poet or an artist, so you don't have to tell me. But I hope I have a future as your friend!

Larry, Larry,
 Highly Contrary
 It was weird knowing you
 you made me feel call
 But in my opinion
 You're tall cause you're a super cool drama freak.
 Keep the drama dept going and long live cast parties-
